Testimonial

Peter Mclean of Lamplighter Performance Consulting presented to the Stirling Business Association on the 14th March 2012 a talk on 'People Performance for Profit'.

Peter's style of presentation was relaxed and he made you feel like he was talking to you personally. You were engaged in his speaking, therefore you were engrossed in the information he provided the audience. The talk was well structured with valuable information linked throughout the talk not like some talks I've attended where it's crammed into one section of the presentation and the rest of the presentation has no real body.

Peter's Power Point presentation was excellent which had information presented in a clear and concise manner and it complemented his speaking. It didn't over power his speaking as on occasions I've had this occur at other presentations.

Many people in the audience took notes of Peter's presentation, and I was one of them which highlights to me that his talk was well received and the information was valued highly.

I came away with the understanding of what I need to do to improve in the investing of my clients so their performance improves and their work satisfaction is of a high standard. I personally thanked Peter after his presentation and now with this testimonial I hope he can share it with other groups, Associations and prospective clients to show them the benefit of using him as a guest speaker.

Yours sincerely,

ROB BLUNTISH
